Mama, still can't believe that you are gone. My heart hurts because you are not here. I go to your house thinking this is all a dream and that I will see you sitting there on the couch talking on the phone, then the reality sit in that you are not there. Your house feels so empty when I go there. Mama the day you passed my heart was broken I knew you had some health issues but I truly felt we would have you around for a long time but God had another plan for you mama. RIP mama I miss you so much that i can't even explain the hurt that I am feeling now all I know is that the pain of losing you is unbearable. Mama you fought a good fight now you can take you rest .I will forever love and miss you. Love Always your daughter Paula 😭😭
