When I had my disability claims office open at the corner of Kurth Drive and Lakeview, I would see Robert often. When he took his morning walk, he would open the door, stick his head in, and say, "I'm just checking on you," and he would be on his way. One morning I heard a steady snipping sound coming from the side of my office building. I walked out to see what was happening. I found him trimming back the overgrown bushes "so you can see and be safe." Robert was a very thoughtful, respectful, and gracious man who will not be forgotten by those who knew him.
